Took the wife to the Seymour Club for a meal. I used to take the kids here years ago when the missus was off working. We had the garlic bread and bruschetta for entrée. Both were quite good. Not amazing, OMG but good, tasty tuckers. I was happy with that and looked forward to the mains. I ordered a rib eye and said wife had an entrée fish and chips. Why people have fish and chips in a land locked location is a mystery... read more. When the weather is nice you can also eat outside, And into the accessible rooms also come customers with wheelchairs or physical limitations. If you crave for afters, Seymour Club with its fine desserts can surely make an end of it, Additionally, they offer you typical Australian meals with products like bush tomatoes and finger limes.
