What Porter Corkery likes about The Red Crab: Expensive but their portions are worth it. In addition to the crabs, try the laing and crispy pata! The place looks crowded from the outside but is spacious even when full of people. read more. What Barbara Moyo doesn't like about The Red Crab:

Crab is probably the only seafood I have a love-hate relationship with. I love eating its fresh and slightly sweet meat, not to mention that divine crab fat. But getting all those could be a pain. And more often than not, I avoid ordering crab if it's not de-shelled as I've developed a bit of trauma from being hurt while cracking open those long legs. Then again, seeing ginormous ones could be too hard to resist espe... read more. The restaurant also offers the possibility to sit outside and eat in beautiful weather, and there is complimentary WLAN. A visit to The Red Crab is particularly valuable due to the large selection of coffee and tea specialties, and you may look forward to the scrumptious classic seafood cuisine. If you'd like something dessert for dessert, The Red Crab does not disappoint with its extensive selection of desserts.
