The place from Melbourne offers 109 different dishes and drinks on the menu at an average A$18. What Cathy McClure likes about MAO Please:

Gluten free menu available here. The staff was really friendly, capable of making orders quickly and very concerned about me having a good time. I have to say that it wasn't the tastiest of Asian but, I really appreciate the attempt and the consideration for celiacs. The normal dishes were looking very tasty and everyone who left their seats had nothing or almost in their dishes. read more. The place also offers the possibility to sit outside and be served in nice weather. What Dylan Lewis doesn't like about MAO Please:

I was invited for dumplings and thought it would be a dumpling restaurant (the Melbourne has many) but this was a very basic Chinese restaurant with about 2 loose dumplings (both or pan-fried veg) available for veggie. I had pan-fried and an early dwarf pancake it really wasn't much to write home, but it was cheap. The place was quite back road skanky as in dirty. The menus were held together with glue t... If you want to spoil your palate with a bit of culinary flair, this is the place to be: The original Asian fusion cuisine of the MAO Please from Melbourne - a delicious combination of proven and the unexpected. The guests of the restaurant also appreciate the comprehensive variety of differing coffee and tea specialities that the establishment has to offer. At the bar, you can still relax after the meal (or during it) with an alcoholic or non-alcoholic drink. On the daily specials there are also several Asian meals.
