The Menu of Chick-In from Melbourne contains about 58 different dishes and drinks. On average, you pay for a dish / drink about A$18. What Mustafa Jones likes about Chick-In:

My partner and some friends and I have a great meal at Chick-In. The Korean chicken and all the sides are probably best described as comfort food and they were all amazing. There's a good selection of drinks, both soft and alcohol, and I also enjoyed the bench seating - very social especially if you're in a group. The only thing that lets the place down is the service - the staff were very unfriendly and indifferent. F... read more. When the weather is good you can also eat outside. What Cristopher O'Connell doesn't like about Chick-In:

I ate in here thinking it will be better than KFC which it were. Yet although the quality is better than KFC the price is far too high for the quality. I rather Nando's burgers read more. Lovers of Korean cuisine are right at home here: The range includes Kimchi, a variety of diverse variations of Bibimbap, alongside a multitude of delicious Jjigae that enchant the taste buds. Besides, the successful blend of different meals with new and sometimes adventurous products is appreciated by the customers - a good case of Asian Fusion. Typically, the burgers of this establishment are served as highlights along with filling side dishes like fries, leaf and cabbage salads or wedges. On the menu there are also several Asian meals.
