The restaurant from East Perth offers 89 different dishes and drinks on the menu at an average A$10. What Randal Grimes likes about Two Man's Kitchen:

We had the 6-8 course for $55/pax, which included the tuna and beef tataki. A little expensive in my opinion, but I'm not that familiar with the price of Japanese food in Perth so I may be wrong. However, we enjoyed the meal very much and didn't regret going to Two Man's Kitchen. read more. The restaurant also offers the possibility to sit outside and be served in nice weather, And into the accessible rooms also come visitors with wheelchairs or physiological limitations. What Roope Saukko doesn't like about Two Man's Kitchen:

We popped in here for a casual dinner . The menu was hard to understand no detail. The young waiter was poor in explaining what it meant . When we did order on two occasions she came back to say we couldn't have it . Frustrating . We ended up having sashimi which I must say was delicious . More effort is needed in presentation and their menu then this place would be a gem . They offer BYO which is always a plus read more. Various tasty French dishes are served in Two Man's Kitchen from East Perth, At the bar, you can relax with a freshly tapped beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks. Of course, the most diverse ingredients are also used in the most extraordinary combinations and implementations - according to the motto of the Fusion Cuisine in the culinary offer, and it's made with lots of fresh vegetables, fish and meat, easily digestible Japanese dishes prepared.
