Don't be fooled by the reviews from non-Chinese people, this place is second to none for their 100% authentic shanghai cuisine. The soup we had taste exact as how I'd expect it to taste had we ordered it in Shanghai. The sweat and sour fried fish (not its proper English name) was devoured within 10 mins. The pork bun had a thin crust and a juicy filling. Hardly had time to take photos before the food disappeared.... read more. The restaurant and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physical limitations.

What Nhã Dã doesn't like about 257 Home Kitchen:

You have to arrive here early to secure a table but that's no guarantee of value for money - nice decor, quite clean but food was so-so and quite expensive - for these prices one would expect better, service very ordinary, dirty plates not removed after each course, had to ask continuously for the tea and water glasses to be refilled and of course a surcharge for using a credit card; we won't go back.
