A bustling street. A quiet alley. A soft light. An intriguing door. A gentle creak and then: warmth. Into the Burrow. Travellers wander the streets of Sydney, seeking a soothing dram away from the loud, brash and impersonal scene of so-called 'speakeasies'. In the Burrow, they are welcomed. Greeted as new friends. Invited to sit and let their senses, rather than their feet, do the wandering. The amiable owners mix cock... read more. The place also offers the possibility to sit outside and be served in nice weather. What Katelynn Bartoletti doesn't like about Burrow Bar:

nice bar. good decorations. there we were for a birthday party and we all commented that the prices were ridiculously expensive. wow for an insecure place her rental should be cheap.
