What Peter V likes about In a Pickle: When in Brisbane, I occasionally stop by here for a light lunch or a mid morning coffee. Although the place is small and most of the seating is necessarily outside on the footpath, it is a fairly quiet area so there isn't excessive traffic noise or exhaust fumes. The food is great, and I have to comment that the serving size is very generous; at times I find myself struggling to finish. The coffee is not excellent bu... read more. The restaurant is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physiological disabilities, Depending on the weather, you can also sit outside and have something. What Dominic Rempel doesn't like about In a Pickle: Visited one Monday morning, around 1145am after having seeing great reviews on the food and coffee. Unfortunately I can't comment on the quality of either of these. After standing at the front of the counter for at least 5 minutes I still wasn't greeted or given a menu etc. The lady who I presume is the manager or owner was deep in laughter with another customer. I gave up and left. While the food I did see in the ca... read more. The large diversity of coffee and tea specialties makes a visit to In a Pickle even more worthwhile, Additionally, they serve you typical Australian meals with ingredients like bush tomatoes and finger limes.
