Marksie is a wholesome, respectful and engaging story teller with lots of knowledge and stories about many different aspects of both white and Aboriginal life in historical and modern Katherine and the Top End. Not only do we get to taste and drink magnificent and fresh local produce (the mango salsa on wild barra was my favorite), but Marksie explains how produce is traditionally collected, prepared and cooked. Mark... read more.

The restaurant is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physiological disabilities, Depending on the weather, you can also sit outside and have something. What User doesn't like about Marksies Camp Tucker:

The food was average. Some interesting flavours but nothing special. So then you would think the entertainment should be top notch to compensate but it wasn't. The Bushman stories were dull, even crass. Talking about Wave Hill station and not mentioning the walk-off is doing...an injustice to our history. read more.
