What User likes about Chinatown Cafe:

Have been going here for the laksa soup for a long time - it's always the same and delicious, I've tried the chicken rice from here a couple of times and was not impressed. Quiet dry and rice is a bit stodgy. But the LAKSA is amazing. Do the laksa (check out Kopi Tim for Chicken Rice) read more. The restaurant and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physiological limitations, Depending on the weather conditions, you can also sit outside and be served. What User doesn't like about Chinatown Cafe:

I might be asking for too much if I expect the exact same taste and texture for food served in an overseas Asian eatery but with chicken rice being the Singaporean national dish, I do expect a minimum standard. The chicken was slightly dry in texture and it came without the skin. The rice was also too bland for my liking. However, the chilli was fine. I am willing to give them the benefit of the doubt that the other... read more.
