My friend was visiting for the weekend and we were walking around the city being tourists! We stumbled on this place by accident. I liked the vibe and my friend was interested in the menu! We ordered dumplings to share and a burger and fries each. The dumplings were nothing extraordinary but decent and made fresh (however the Chinatown next door they have fierce competition close by). The burgers were delicious though... read more. The restaurant also offers the possibility to sit outside and have something in pleasant weather. What User doesn't like about Project 219:

The honeymoon of this place is over. First trip was great, the owner couldn't interrupt us enough telling us all about the place. Tonight, they ran out of red wine replaced it with $7 bottle and charged $7 per glass. The burgers are good, but from now on, take away only. They play black and white movies from youtube downstairs which was on repeat, you can't help notice that in conversation. Only one toilet, no mirror... read more. Project 219 from Melbourne is famous for its exquisite burgers, to which tasty fries, salads and other sides are presented, look forward to the typical delicious French cuisine. Important are also the courses from the Australian continent of this restaurant, In the morning they serve a extensive breakfast here.
