Rumi Palace is very colourfully decorated with painted tiles and lovely glass light-shades. We went on a Saturday night and it seemed to be very quiet, although several people came to collect food to takeaway. The food was excellent - the kebabs on skewers tasted like those I'd eaten in Iran in the early 1970s and the ashak were beautiful. The Qabli Palaw was delicious, and the lamb just fell apart. To follow I had f... read more. The restaurant is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physical disabilities, Depending on the weather conditions, you can also sit outside and eat and drink. WiFi is available without additional charges.

What User doesn't like about Rumi Palace:

Had a plate with different kinds of kebabs. The service was slow, quantities small, food presentation ugly and the flavours quite boring.. Really surprised by the great ratings people give this place! read more. A visit to Rumi Palace is particularly valuable due to the extensive variety of coffee and tea specialties, The customers also rave about the scrumptious, airy flatbread that can be dipped into the own hummus or a yoghurt dip; the exciting combination of figs with goat cheese is also one of the delights from the diverse cuisine of the Middle East. You can also look forward to tasty vegetarian cuisine.
