The banquet is the only way to go! The seafood banquet is the same as the normal with a couple more courses. Whilst the food is very good the experience is always excellent. A lovely vibe. If you're booking ask for the front room as it is much nicer. The staff are really great and very attentive. There's a belly dancer on Friday and Saturday nights, but not until about 9-9.30. As an Entertainment Book devotee, you can... read more. When the weather is good you can also eat and drink outside. What User doesn't like about Maroush:

I recently went to Maroush for a dinner with the school mums. We opted for the banquet just to make it easier when it came to contributing to the bill. The food was nice but basic, it seemed fairly simple and generic just your typical dips with pita bread, some basic meat dishes and salad. Not the full of flavour middle eastern food I've had elsewhere. I suppose for people who are only just starting to eat middle eas... read more. Whether you opt for a fine flatbread which is refined with a spicy garlic paste, or crispy falafel, the dishes from the Middle East transport you for a moment to a distant land - rounded off with honey-like, crispy baklava, you can return satisfied to your daily life, The palate also enjoys well digestible Mediterranean dishes that are on the menu. In addition, they offer you flavorful seafood menus, It's possible to chill out at the bar with a freshly tapped beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks.
