A day trip to Sydney for a special occasion and a lovely dinner at Aria. A table for two available at short notice for an early seating. Cocktails to start and a wonderful three course dinner option. The food was excellent and the service didn't disappoint. The only element that was disappointing was the view. There appears to be two rooms and the room facing the Opera House must need to be requested which I didn't rea... read more. The restaurant is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physiological limitations, Depending on the weather conditions, you can also sit outside and eat and drink. What User doesn't like about ARIA Restaurant:

We were initially told our table wasn't ready, and were shown to the bar to order pre-dinner drinks (which was fine in itself), but the table we were eventually shown to had been available the whole time we were in the bar (we could see it from the bar). Our entree's were fine, but we both ordered steaks (mine blue, the other medium rare) and when they were delivered to the table, I asked if my was blue, and I was as... read more. For those who want to have a drink after work and sit with friends or alone, ARIA Restaurant from Sydney is a good bar, In addition, the sweet desserts of the local shine not only on children's plates or in the eyes of the little guests. Of course, the right drink with a meal can be crucial; this gastropub presents a wide variety of scrumptious and regional alcoholic beverages like beer or wine, Typically, the dishes are prepared for you in the shortest time and fresh.
