Our second time at this restaurant and we couldn't be happier. The food is delicious, and very true to food we have had in Seville in the past. The staff are lovely, friendly and helpful. The decor and ambiance are quintessentially Andalusian. On Mondays all tapas dishes are half price (bargain) and on Friday and Saturday there are unmissable flamenco performances in the evening. We are so happy we found this little... read more. In beautiful weather you can even eat in the outdoor area, And into the accessible rooms also come guests with wheelchairs or physical disabilities. What Laurence McCullough doesn't like about Spanish Tapas:

On a busy night, the kitchen took little care to keep standards. On the whole many of the tapas dishes were a little salty. Rather disappointed too with the freshness of seafood, especially the mussels with meats so small that I believed they were in their last days of life and I'm sure they could really afford sourcing better prawns that matched the price we paid.
