Authentic Indian restaurant with a Michelin recommendation and great concept. There specially is fish, so the waiter will bring a bird with the fresh fish from the day with the market price and you will choose how to cook and with which sauce. Pratta bread was really tasty too plus the have a large amount of beer as well. Is a bit pricy but all was really tasty and well cook read more. What Kelvin L doesn't like about Bangera's Kitchen:

Had the 2400 yen fish curry set and 1800yen chicken curry yet. The curries were extremely soupy/watery. I don't know if this is a Mangalorean curry trait but personally I did not enjoy the curries at all. The flavors were overly salty and had no texture. There were decent portions of meat. This sounds very weird but the bread (710yen) we ordered tasted and looked very much like out of the packaging scallion pancakes.... read more. At Bangera's Kitchen in Tokyo, a selection of delectable menus with typical Indian spices and sides like rice or naan are freshly prepared, The customers of the establishment are also thrilled with the large variety of various coffee and tea specialities that the restaurant offers. If you'd like something sweet to finish off, Bangera's Kitchen does not disappoint with its good selection of desserts.
