I came into this warm, comfortable place with so much cold out. nothing like a rustic environment and warm, homemade suppe and home-specificity tee as a perfect anecdote read more. What User doesn't like about Stardust:

I made a special trip here, and despite not saying so on their website, found out that a reservation is needed three days in advance for a 1500 Yen lunch. They did offer some tea, but at that point I was starving so went back into Kyoto for lunch. The place seemed very nice, and had a great vibe. If someone tries the place and finds it amazing I'll happily update or remove this review, but since there are no reviews... read more. With the comprehensive range of coffee and tea specialties, a visit to Stardust becomes even more attractive. Moreover, there are some international dishes to choose from on the menu. If you'd like something sweet for dessert, Stardust does not disappoint with its large selection of desserts, and a lot of fresh vegetables, fish and meat are used to prepare healthy Japanese meals.
