Visitors of this rooftop restaurant in Udaipur can expect incredible views of the Pichola Lake and a great ambiance. While the food is described as average, the cheese naan and lemon chicken are highlighted as tasty options. However, some reviewers note that the portions may not be sufficient for those with big appetites. The staff is described as friendly, with some praise for attentive service. Despite some issues with celebrating occasions like birthdays and limited menu options, the overall experience is enhanced by the beautiful setting. It's also noted that alcohol is relatively cheap at this establishment. For those looking for a picturesque spot for drinks and light snacks, this restaurant is worth a visit.
