Ryo's hype and fame definitely precedes its taste. Still one of the better bowls in Sydney, but it's rating is far above some of its superior competitors. Favourite here is the soy tonkotsu, which is quite balanced but lacks complexity. Owner apparently hails from Fukuoka but this is a far far cry from proper Hakata tonkotsu ramen which is much deeper in flavour and uses thin noodles. read more. What Edmund Weber doesn't like about Ryo's:

I have ordered Spozig pork Ramen and the food was ok. Grief I have no idea why this place is so popular ... it took a little longer than half an hour to get seats read more. With the extensive variety of coffee and tea specialties, a visit to Ryo's becomes even more attractive, there are also delicious vegetarian meals in the menu. The menus are prepared authentically Asian, and it's made with lots of fresh vegetables, fish and meat, healthy Japanese menus prepared.
