I especially love visiting this bakery on a wet and wintery day when I am looking after my 1 and 3 year old nieces. It has one of the best little kids play areas this side of the black stump. The service is usually quite good, and one is spoilt for choice with the range of freshly baked goods. For what they actually are, (a tiny little bit of frothed up milk) I think the babycinos could be thrown in as complimentary... read more. The diner is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physiological limitations. What User doesn't like about Dulwich Bakery:

The food is generally up to standard but nowhere as good as Port Elliot Bakery or Pat a Cake bakery. What annoyed me on this and other occasions is the poor attitude of the staff who just seem like they don't want to be there. read more.
