It was a good visit, though the aircon wasn't on when we arrived so it felt quite stuffy and the tropical humidity didn't help. It was up and working soon enough though. The food was lovely but the only downside was the coffee came out too hot, way past the recommended 65-70 degrees temp. Overall a good experience read more.

The diner and its premises are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physical disabilities, Depending on the weather conditions, you can also sit outside and eat. What User doesn't like about The Coffee Club:

Walk in of 7, understaffed. Quite rude as well. Very overpriced, which we were happy to pay. Once meals came out very disappointed. Eggs were hard. Bagel was rock hard. Very disappointed customers. And no table water because of restrictions- we have travelled everywhere in FNQ. This place was by far the worst place we have dined. read more.
