3pm is between typical meal times for most people. Still, the restaurant was open and cooking. I was the only person dining. There were trays of buns and dumplings sitting out. After staring at the food for a few minutes and unsure how of how to order (no labels or menus), staff handed me a takeaway box. I got the message and filled it with a selection of items, not much clue of what they were but hoping for the best. I sat down to eat with my takeaway box but when I tucked in the food all cold. It was also greasy and didn't enjoy it. I wondered if I got the lunchtime leftovers. I also found the staff rather brisk. I've given it 3 stars instead of 2 because it seems like it's probably much better when fresh and I'd be willing to give it a second chance. Let yourself be thrilled in Qing Qi Sushi Maybe from Tainan by versatile, fine Chinese cuisine that's authentically prepared in a wok, Especially delicious are also the Sushi and specialties like Te-Maki from this restaurant. Look forward to the enjoyment of tasty vegetarian dishes, and easily digestible Japanese menus are being made with lots of freshly harvested vegetables, fish and meat.
