Sumi-ka, is a little hide gem in subang jaya area. you will not get a table if no advanced reservation, unless you go there in early of evening (6 sharp is their opening time). Give it a try if you are yakitori fan. Chef is Japanese but service crews are local. I cant use 'roomy ' to describe this restaurant but small , cosy. One thing here, based on my observation, there are quite some Japanese are their regular cust... read more. The visitors love it when Asian cuisine meets a bit of creativity. That's exactly what you can expect at the Sumi-ka Tàn Jiā from Subang Jaya, with its unconventional Asian fusion cuisine - the right mix of what you know meets the adventurous world of fusion cuisine, On the menu there are also several Asian dishes. Furthermore, you can order fresh roasted barbecue, tasty particularly are the Sashimi and specialties like Sashimi that this restaurant is known for.
