An icon in Adelaide and to be discovered on this side street. Little lunch on a Tuesday and I had a sausage roll and custard fruit flan, and a Farmers Union Iced Coffee (of course!). I squatted to eat on the little bench inside and enjoyed each item. The custard fruit flan was delicious. A treat to visit this place and to see the recurring long queue of people coming to eat! What Destiny Price doesn't like about Perryman's Bakery:

Great. First time there but gorgeous little bakery selling sandwich and pies. Everything looks so tasty and obviously home baked, certainly not mass produced. Only tried some of the savoury selection but will be back for desserts. Give them a try for a taste of Adelaide. read more. At Perryman's Bakery in North Adelaide, fine Australian menus are freshly prepared for you with a lot of attention and the typical products like bush tomatoes and caviar limes, The tasty sandwiches, small salads and other snacks can be planned well as a snack.
